

Adobe Animal Hospital of Soquel is truly a family business. We are an AAHA accredited practice and one of the few remaining non-corporate owned Veterinary practices in Santa Cruz. We have a high employee retention rate and a very loyal clientele. We are looking for a full time Registered Veterinary Technician or highly experienced veterinary assistant. We are a fun, fast paced 3 doctor clinic that practices high quality medicine while providing exceptional customer service.

Candidates need to be experienced in veterinary medicine.

- Taking histories, obtaining vitals, giving injections
- Animal handling skill is required
- Knowledge of how to take x rays, run in house blood samples and venipuncture
- Knowledge of anesthesia and anesthetic monitoring is an important component of this job
- Skill in veterinary dentistry, performing dental cleanings and taking x-rays is especially helpful
- Patient care both general and critical as well as post-surgical
- Since we offer advanced pain management treatments, you would also need to assist in performing laser treatments as well as acupuncture assistance. On the job training is provided.

We have all the toys/equipment that you would expect and are in close proximity to advanced care at multiple referral centers.

Good client communication skills are a must. You will be asked to interact daily with the clients in person as well as on the phone. You will be giving surgery discharge instructions, advising on medical concerns of the patients, reporting lab results, and fielding general questions. You are asked to always represent the clinic in a courteous and professional manner.

You must work well in a team, be able to multitask, be flexible, take direction and if asked, take the lead.

Above all else, you must do your job with compassion and care for the patients. They are our first and top priority. You need to have a great work ethic and be show up on time.

Pay is very competitive and commensurate with experience level. Vacation time, health and 401k benefits are available. If you want to enjoy the beach town life and all that it has to offer, take a look at us on our website, [www.adobe vets.com](http://www.adobe vets.com), and see why we have been voted the Best Veterinary Clinic in Santa Cruz for the past 9 years. We look forward to hearing from you. Come join our team!
