

IVECCS 2022
Scroll to view the many submission opportunities below,
including:
Abstracts, Case Reports & Scholarships

---

Small Animal Abstracts

Deadline: April 15, 2022

Thank you in advance for submitting a Small Animal abstract for presentation at IVECCS 2022 and publication in the Journal of Veterinary Emergency and Critical Care and the IVECCS proceedings. Abstracts should represent original research not yet published or presented elsewhere and not to be published or presented prior to the 2022 IVECCS. Authors of successful abstracts will be notified via e-mail by June 1, 2022. Accepted abstracts will be presented in person at IVECCS in San Antonio, TX on Thursday 8 September 2022 for Resident abstracts, and Friday September 9, 2022 for general abstracts. Each presentation will be twelve minutes in length followed by a three-minute discussion. Abstracts not accepted for oral presentation may be given the option to be presented as posters. Presenters may choose poster as the primary means of presentation if so desired by indicating preference on the submission website. Authors of accepted abstracts must register for the meeting, and registration is not complimentary.

SUBMIT HERE

---

Steve Haskins Memorial Scholarship

Deadline: May 15, 2022

IVECCS Scholarship opportunity for four Residents and four Licensed Vet Techs. Includes free IVECCS registration, four-night hotel stay and $500 travel stipend.

Qualified Individuals:

Residents in good standing in the first or second year of an ACVECC-approved residency training program. Must also be a current VECCS member in good standing at the time of application.

Licensed veterinary technicians engaged in emergency or emergency/critical care practice for no less than three years. Must also be a VECCS member in good standing at the time of application.

APPLY HERE

Click "Start entry", under program select "IVECCS", then under category select "Awards/Nominations", then "Steve Haskins Memorial Scholarship".

---

Veterinarian Case Reports

Deadline: June 10, 2022

Have an interesting case to present? Please submit one page or less summary of the case by midnight EST June 10th, 2022. The goal of this session is to highlight unique and challenging cases managed by Emergency and Critical Care doctors! The case should have been managed in at least in part by the presenter. Preference is given to ACVECC residents in training and those in ER practice for three years or less. Residents are asked to include the name of a mentor who has been involved in evaluating the submission. Small and Large animal cases are encouraged! The top 10 cases will be selected for presentation.

Two award winners will be selected at IVECCS. An award will be given to the veterinarian presenting the best case report based on case content, delivery of the case report, and professional contribution of the case report. In addition, another award will be given to the veterinarian presenting the best case report with nutrition contribution.

SUBMIT HERE

Click “Start entry”, under program select “IVECCS”, then under category select “Case Reports”, then “Veterinary Case Reports”. For entry name use “YourName-IVECCSCaseReport2022”.

---

Technician Case Reports

Deadline: June 10, 2022

Unique and interesting case management scenarios are encouraged for submission. There is no limitation to the species or specific scenario, except that the emphasis should be on the emergency and critical care nursing aspect of the case. Small animal, large animal, exotic, toxicology, internal medicine, anesthesia, and surgery cases are welcome.

Case report presentations are limited to individuals that have NO prior lecturing experience in order to make this a learning experience for those individuals that might be considering lecturing in the future. Recipients of any prior case report awards are also ineligible to present. Candidates should be a credentialed veterinary technician/nurse (CVT, LVT, LVMT, RVT, RVN, CVN, AVN, etc.) and members of VECCS. All case reports must be initially assessed by a licensed DVM or if applicable a board-certified specialist (ACVS, ACVAA, ACVIM ACVECC...). The individual or assessor is required to initially ensure the quality of the case report being submitted.

SUBMIT HERE

Click “Start entry”, under program select “IVECCS”, then under category select “Case Reports”, then “Technician Case Reports”. For entry name use “YourName-IVECCSCaseReport2022”.

---

Large Animal Abstracts

Deadline: June 15, 2022

Abstracts should represent original research not yet published or presented elsewhere and not to be published or presented prior to the 2022 IVECCS. Authors of successful abstracts will be notified via e-mail by July 1, 2022. Abstracts may be presented as either oral or poster format. Accepted abstracts will be published in the Journal of Veterinary Emergency and Critical Care; therefore, close attention must be paid to the format instructions. Failure to follow formatting instructions will result in rejection. No changes will be allowed after submission.

If you are an approved ACVECC, ACVIM, ACVS, or ACVAA resident or ACVECC fellow or enrolled in Large Animal/Equine specific internship, please indicate so on the submission form. House officer’s abstracts will be presented in the same session and special recognition will be given to the most outstanding paper by a resident. If you completed your training program after July 1, 2022, you may present in the resident’s forum if the research was conducted while you were a resident. However, if you are a faculty member of an institution after your resident finished, you should not enter as a resident. Indicate the termination date of your residency in your cover e-mail and provide your mentor’s name and e-mail address.

SUBMIT HERE

IVECCS DEI Scholarship

Deadline: June 17, 2022

Open to: Veterinary students, Veterinary technician students currently enrolled in an accredited program and Veterinary technicians who have graduated from an accredited program in the past year.

The awards will include: Complimentary IVECCS registration and $1000 to cover travel and accommodation expenses. Winners are expected to moderate IVECCS lecture sessions. Given the uncertainty around international travel this year, the scholarships are available to US based attendees only.

The applications will be assessed by a joint group of VECCS, ACVECC and ACVECCCTN members and winners will be notified by Tuesday July 5, 2022.

APPLY HERE

---